

Fire Service Resources

---

Dear Reader:

The following document was created from the MTAS website (mtas.tennessee.edu). This website is maintained daily by MTAS staff and seeks to represent the most current information regarding issues relative to Tennessee municipal government.

We hope this information will be useful to you; reference to it will assist you with many of the questions that will arise in your tenure with municipal government. However, the Tennessee Code Annotated and other relevant laws or regulations should always be consulted before any action is taken based upon the contents of this document.

Please feel free to contact us if you have questions or comments regarding this information or any other MTAS website material.

Sincerely,

The University of Tennessee

Fire Service Resources

Reference Number: MTAS-2107

The Fire Chief Orientation class contained a module called Fire Service Resources. When the course curriculum was updated, the resources module was removed to provide time for other topics, as fire service resources was not a specifically required topic under state law. However, the information on fire service resources is very useful, and MTAS is making the information available via MTAS Online Resources (MORe) as a downloadable Adobe PDF file.

The document is organized by the following sections: professional associations, training and education, community risk reduction (CRR), wildland-urban interface (WUI) resources, residential sprinklers, human resources, operations, grant resources, purchasing and surplus property, and information and research. The document contains brief descriptions of the resources along with associated contact information and/or links to websites for additional information.

For questions on the information, to report broken links, to provide information on additional resources, etc., contact Fire Management Consultant Dennis Wolf at dennis.wolf@tennessee.edu [1].
