How does the customized listing of MTAS consultants show on my computer?

The MTAS website places a cookie on your computer hard drive when you select a location from the initial sharing location pop-up. The location you select in that pop-up is stored to create a more customized website experience for each visitor.

When you clear your internet browser cookies or visit our website from a new machine, you will again be asked to share your location.

Sharing your location is completely optional, it simply allows us to provide information that is more relevant to you.
