

PEP Risk Management Series

Approved for 8.0 utility training hours.

MTAS and Public Entity Partners (PEP) are excited to present a special series on risk management. Identifying, managing, and mitigating risk is everyone's responsibility and when done effectively can save your organization money.

Developing a Culture of Safety – February 28

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Central

Many organizations are moving toward an enterprise risk management plan that encompasses a more comprehensive approach to risk management. While these plans are diverse and can often be organization or industry specific, they all have one thing in common. Risk management must be embedded in organizational culture. In this session we will discuss solutions for weaving loss prevention strategies into the culture of an organization and engaging your employees in the process.

Property Conservation: Protecting Your Assets – May 16

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Central

Reducing property losses is an important aspect of any risk management plan. Focusing on the most common property risks, this session will offer guidance on minimizing risk and protecting public assets. We will discuss best practices in property conservation using a holistic approach of loss prevention, accountability, and communication.

Liability: Reducing Your Exposure – September 12

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Central

Public entities face unique liability exposures due to the nature of the services they provide. In this session we will take a deep dive into some of the most common exposures, including general liability, employment practices liability, and law enforcement liability. We will explore policies and best practices for mitigating these risks and minimizing the impact of a loss.

Workers' Comp: Protecting Your Employees and Operations – November 2

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Central

Considering the risks associated with many jobs it takes to run a public entity, most employers will experience work-related injuries at some point. While employee safety and the mitigation of these risks should be of top concern, it is also important to have a plan in place should a work-related injury occur. In this session we will provide you with the steps to properly manage your workers' compensation claims and ensure the best possible outcomes for your injured employee and your organization. Additionally, we will share resources available to you as you navigate the workers' compensation process.

All sessions will be virtual via Zoom. You must be registered to receive Zoom meeting information. View the MTAS Training Calendar and register today!
